Guardians Supporting Dr. Gulick Say Members of His Family Are Now Off Payroll.

Officials of the Camp Fire Girls denied yesterday the statement that there was a serious revolt in the organiza-The trouble was caused, they said, by a few malcontents actuated by personal motives.

Dr. Thomas M. Balliet, dean of the School of Pedagogy of New York University, chairman of a committee appointed last fall to inquire into the complaints, made a long statement in reply to the stories which appeared in the morning papels. His committee will make its final report at a board meeting on Friday.

According to a member of the financial committee, which is the storm centre, all the trouble will be smoothed away at that meeting.

things should become too unpleasant, of course. Dr. Gulick would resign rather than suffer them," he said, "but I am conident that will not happen. Dr. Gulick built up this organization. It is his very life and soul. No one questions his good intentions. The whole trouble is just inability of some of the leaders to hit it off together."

never heard any one express dissatisfaction with these prices."

The petition circulated by Miss Grace Cotton, chairman of the Brooklyn guardians, protests against the new basis of membership, according to which the "ranks should be recruited first from those who can do and help rather than from those who need help." It puts the following questions to Dr. Gulick:

Puts Questions to Founder.

Puts Questions to Founder.

"Why is the Camp Fire office not ao organized as to be able to deal properly with all applications?"

"Why create an aristocracy in Camp Fires when its chief good historically has been due to its democratic spirit?

"How is it possible to classify girls according to those who do and who do not need help? Is this help supposedly of an economic, physical, intellectual, social, moral or spiritual nature? Are there any girls who do not need help of some kind, or are there any girls who cannot, under wise leadership, give it?

girls who cannot, under wise leadership, give it?

"By whose authority are these limitations placed upon the purpose of the organization set forth in the constitution and published in the 1914 edition of the Camp Fire Girls' Manual?

"If your body decide that the Manual for 1915, and 'Official Notice' of 'Wohelo' express the future policy of the Camp
